

To "The Flood of 2008" video. John Gage died in a car crash last August just as he was completing work on the documentary of last year's southern Wisconsin disaster. His father, Howard, completed the project for Videogenics Productions, the business they owned together. Sales of the video have raised more than $50,000 for the United Way of North Rock County. Now, it's a national award winner, as well. The video has received a Telly Award. The awards honor the best work of advertising agencies, production companies, TV stations, cable companies and corporate videos. The video costs $10, and proceeds go to the United Way. Copies are for sale in Janesville at the United Way, 205 N. Main St., Videogenics, 20 S. Main, and Slantrax Video, 203 Center Ave.
