

Steve Hjort/ECO-RESOURCE CONSULTING

The ecological staff employed by Eco-Resource Consulting provides diverse expertise in aquatic and terrestrial biology and ecology. This expertise includes the areas of aquatic biology and ecology, fisheries biology and management, wetland determination and delineation, forestry and woodland characterization, groundwater and surface water quality investigation and evaluation, watershed modeling and analysis, hydrology, grant application and permitting, lake management planning and litigation support.

ERC has considerable experience in conducting ecological assessments for evaluation of a natural ecosystem, as well as for planning and data collection services.